

The Maydays and COVID-19

Dear friends of The Maydays,

Here's a little update as to where we are right now with COVID-19.

- We had started running In Real Life (IRL) classes in Brighton, adhering to government guidelines. However, due to the increased COVID environment we've chosen to take all our classes and courses back online, until Jan/February 2022. Please visit our courses page for information and our current offering of online classes.
- We still hope IRL shows will be back from February 2022. But of course we'll keep you posted.

All of us are feeling the effects of the ever changing landscape. But we are very grateful for your ongoing support. You all rock!

Don't forget you can still:

1. Visit our website shop if you fancy some merch here. We'll be restocking it in 2022, so keep an eye out for some new things.
2. Take classes online.
3. Subscribe: We have a YouTube channel and Blogs. You can stay connected!
4. Get in touch with suggestions, questions, emojis etc on email or social media. Let's try and stay as connected as we can in these (still!) difficult times.

We remain hopeful that we can still keep trucking through the coming months, and come back with even more improv love to share with you in 2022.

Stay well and safe.

Best wishes,

The Maydays x
